

NATO Conference on Energy Efficiency

Written by Katerina Oskarsson
Tuesday, 07 January 2014 00:00

---

NATO's Energy Security Center of Excellence has announced its intention to organize its second conference for November 2014 in an attempt to bring together the military, experts, academia and industry from NATO and partner nations to exchange their experiences and to discuss the need for improving energy and environmental technologies in the military, for raising the visibility of those projects and products which have the potential of military application. Read More on the ENSEC COE.